

Playing with Pals!

By: Austin and Joe

A new playground has been built for us to use. It is big enough for all the kids in the school to play on, but we need to take turns. The new playground is really good. Sometimes even the grown-ups play on the it. Playgrounds are good for climbing on, and swinging, running, and jumping, too. Now, we can play on the monkey bars. Playing on a playground is a fun way to get energy out. I like to exercise. Playing on a playground is a fun way to stay fit. It keeps you healthy and strong. It is important to follow the rules on the playground. Absolutely be safe. Do your best to take turns and share. Listen to your teachers, and use playground materials appropriately. It is nice to play outside.

President Karen Zandi has fun on the new playground.

Horseback Riding Hobby

By: LeAnna

I take horseback riding lessons on Saturdays, in Hopewell, New York. I ride two different horses; one is Bart and the other is Jewel. Jewel is a girl, and Bart is a boy. Bart's fur is black and Jewel's is brown. Before the lesson, I brush my horse Bart or Jewel. My three teachers, Martha, Lisa, and Drew help me put the saddle and reins on the horse. We do many activities during our lesson. When my lesson is over, I get off Bart or Jewel and give them a treat. They like carrots, apples and a big raspberry treat for horses. Horseback riding is fun.

Dates to Note:
